DEDICATION

To John F. Schacht — beloved teacher, author, and devoted friend — who has inspired and encouraged his students, we respectfully dedicate this book. It seems particularly fitting that we dedicate our book to one who not only has brought light into many lives, but also has given graciously of his time and patience.

Mr. Schacht came to Bexley in 1932 and has since compiled a laudable list of achievements. He is the author of many textbooks among which are Contemporary Geometry and Contemporary Algebra and Trigonometry. Mr. Schacht, as recognized by Life Magazine, was the first to introduce mechanical aids — Schacht's dynamic devices — to the study of plane geometry.

It is in respect to his accomplishments and in admiration of his service to his students that the Class of 1967 dedicates this book to John F. Schacht.

IN MEMORIAM

Roses are for remembrance.

Dr. E. D. Jarvis passed away when the rose bushes were stark and frozen in the winter winds.

Who was Dr. Jarvis?

He was a magnanimous man

Who liked the youth of America and strived to improve their minds.

He was a teacher by profession,

And he was a teacher by example:

Science teacher,

Lecturer,

Author,

And Superintendent of Bexley Schools.

Kindness,

Consideration,

Patience,

And quiet wisdom gentled by humor,

That was Dr. Jarvis.

He was an educator;

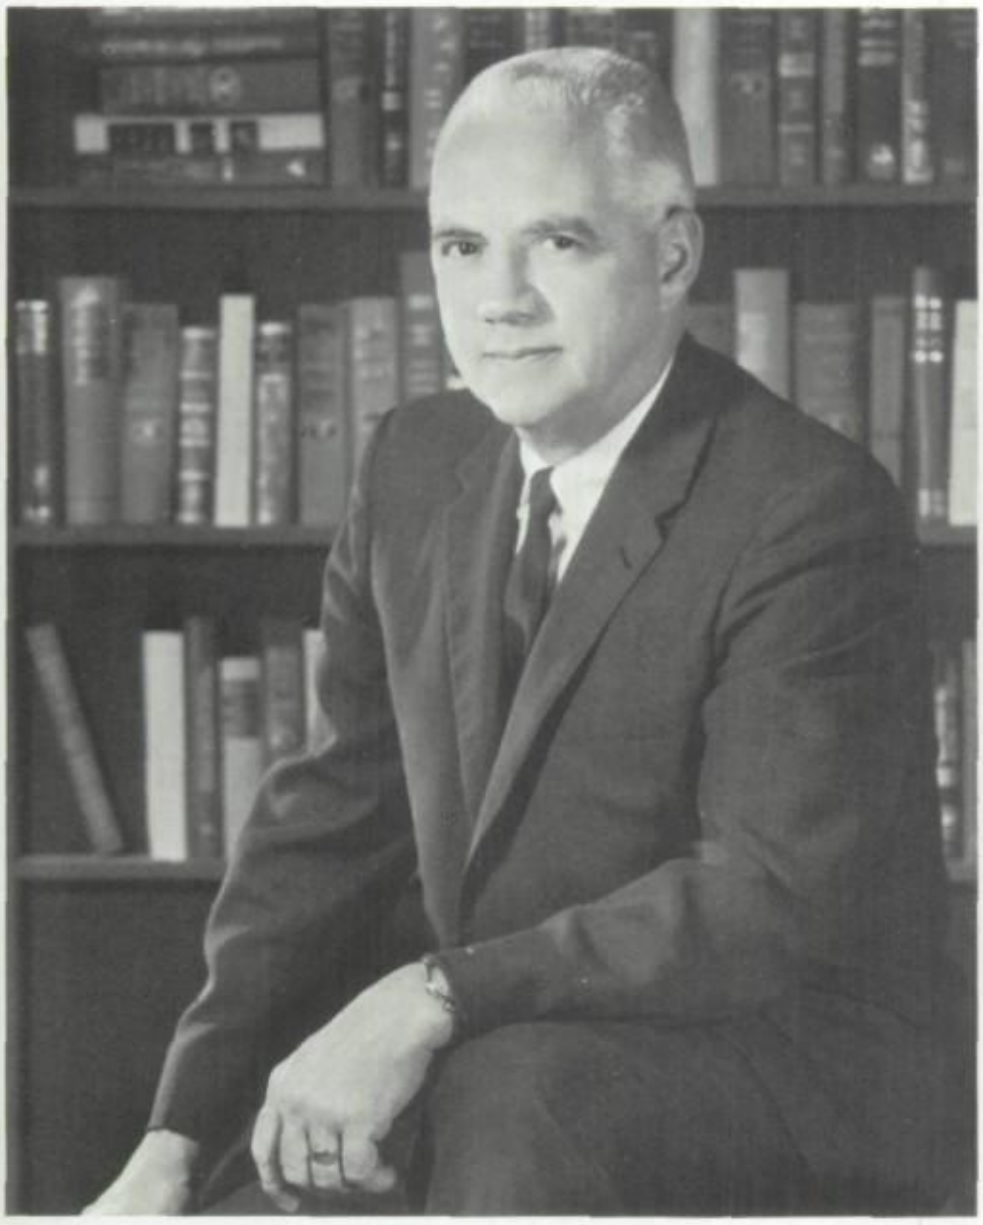
But more important,

He was our friend.

The rose bushes will warm and bloom again in the soft spring winds.

A rose to his memory.

School Year Blends Hope, Change, Sorrow



Mr. C. W. Jones — principal of Bexley High School and interim superintendent of the Bexley School System.

Change! Tragedy! Hope! These three words constitute the predominant spirits which rose and fell within the course of the 1966-67 school year. This year has provided both bright and optimistic experiences as well as tragically sorrowful ones.

Early in the fall, the Bexley School System lost its superintendent, Dr. E. D. Jarvis. In this respect, the 1966-67 school year has been marred by bewilderment and grief. However, this school year has also been host to remarkable improvements. When entering the building this fall, the students became aware of the added equipment around the building. There were not only new overhead projector screens, but there were also closed circuit television outlets in each room. In this respect, Bexley has been the field for progress.

Hope! Yes, the 1966-67 school year hints at the hope for a new and even better year to come. Bexley plans to join the Mid-Eight Conference, now being developed, by September of 1968. The conference will include Groveport, Grove City, London, Marysville, Hilliard, Grandview, Mifflin, and Bexley. In addition, Bexley plans to abandon the I.B.M. system of scheduling. Yes, things look bright for Bexley in 1968.

Board of Education: Standing: John Metzger, Mrs. Donald Williamson, William Hoyer, vice-president. Seated: Donald Elsass, Dr. John Lewis, president.

Teachers Enjoy

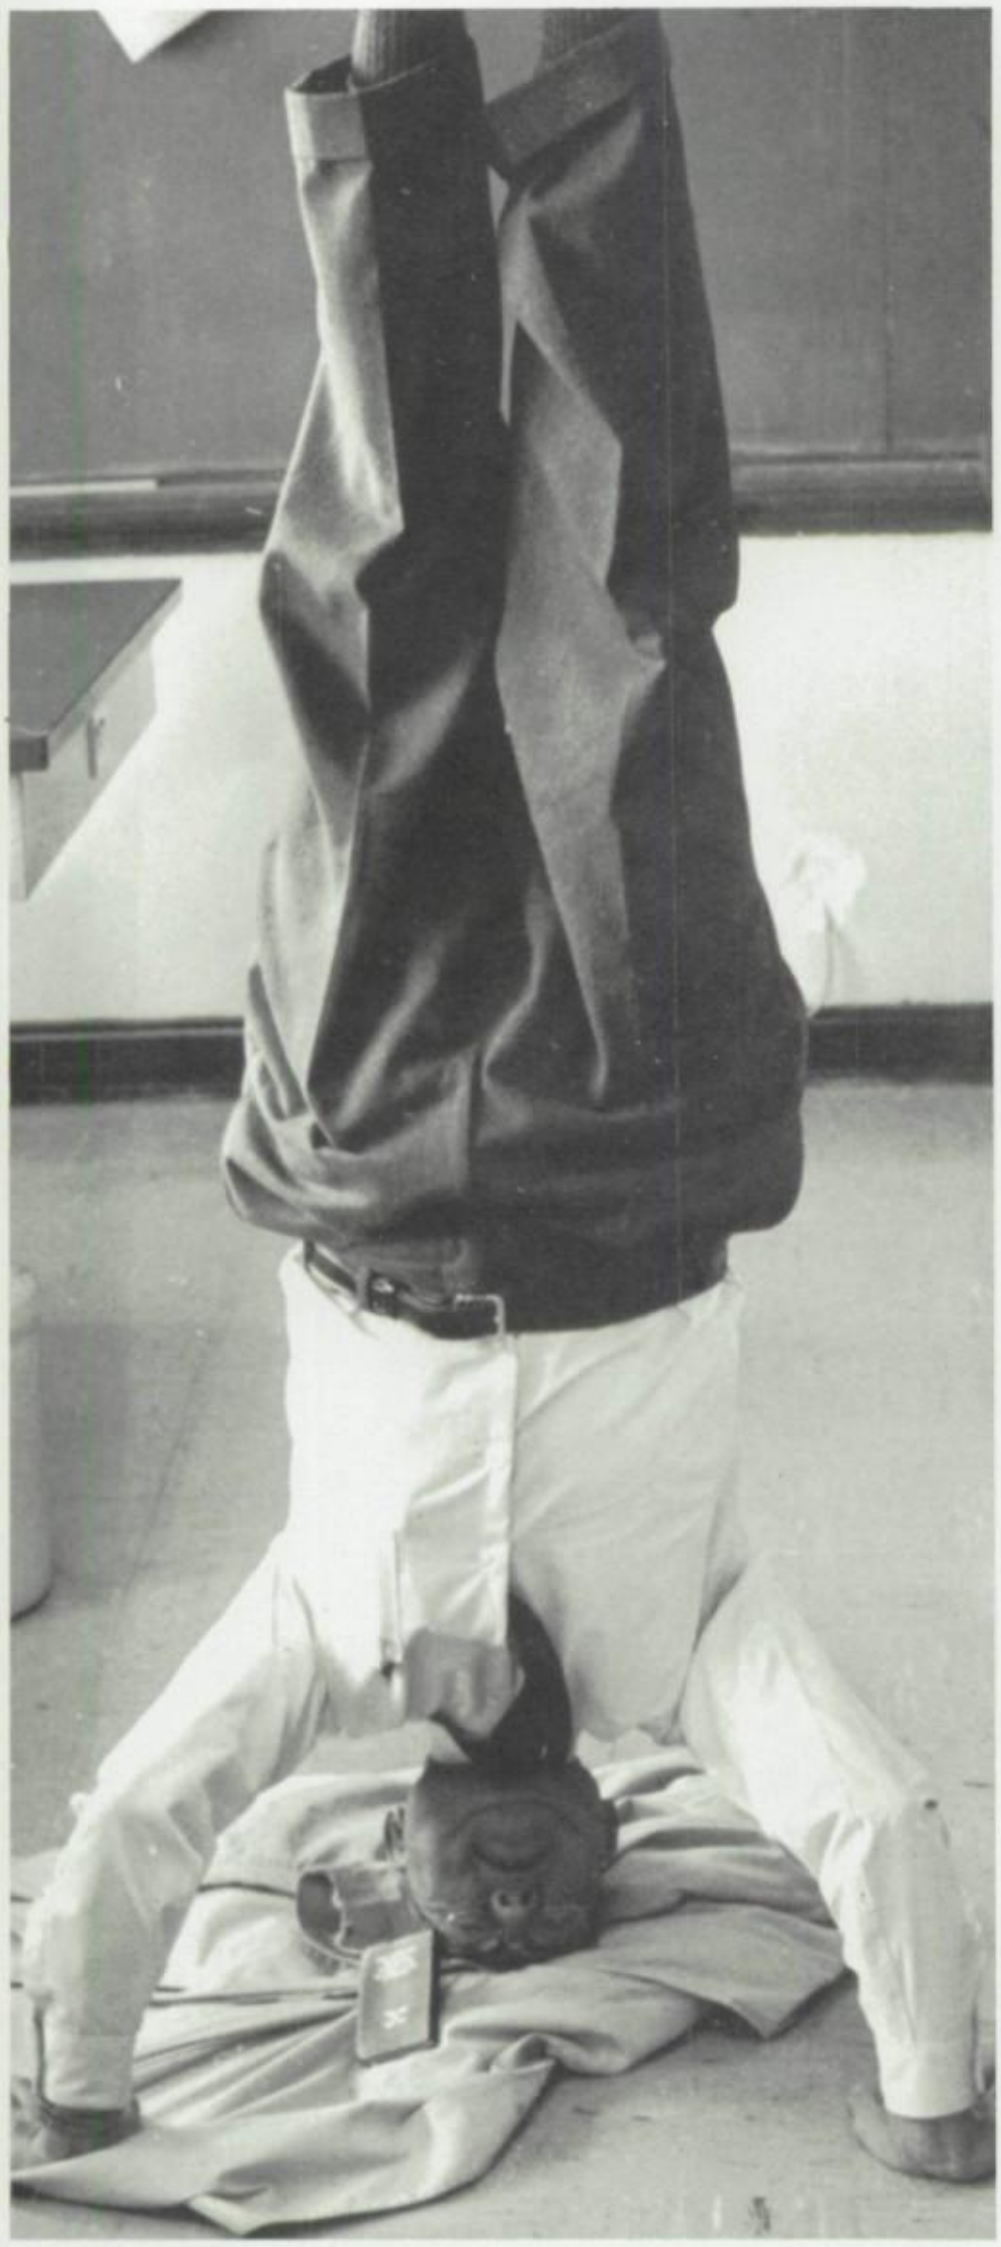
Mr. Dickey's dog, Peppy, displays her remarkable talent.

Mrs. Kull dons her skates for an afternoon of enjoyment.

In his spare time Mr. Tenwalde officiates basketball games in Central Ohio.

Mr. Eliopulos works diligently on his newest creation.

Their Spare Time



Coach Smith doesn't just sit there with his elbow half way up his sleeve.

Mr. Click consults with his son David on good driving practices.

While working at a Jewish Center bake sale, Mrs. Pfaff nibbles on the profits.

Prom and Boards Challenge Juniors

Having just become accustomed to the IBM organized classes, Juniors had to cope with a new problem, the "A and B system." Although simple in design, the system persisted in confusing students. The only basic problem was remembering which weeks were "A" and which were "B." A solution was to rush down to the locker room in anticipation of gym class, only to discover that one was in the wrong class. Yes, automation and efficient innovations certainly have simplified high school life.

As if homework and college boards were not enough, Juniors had to cope with another problem — the prom. In addition to raising enough money, deciding on the theme, and drawing up plans, enough workers had to be found. Yet even after all the plans had been made, the Juniors found that their difficulties were just beginning. Leaving paint-spattered clothes, sleepless nights, and unfinished homework behind, the Juniors finally succeeded in creating the prom.

With the tasks of their junior year completed, the members of the Class of 1968 looked ahead to the start of their senior year.

SOPHOMORES

Sophomores Replace Confusion With Accomplishment

After having experienced the humbling effects of the Freshman year, the class of 1969 entered Bexley in the fall with confidence and assurance that all would be easy. Things seemed to be going well, at least for the first five minutes. Then came the deluge of rules and regulations, each seeming to begin with, "You may not," and suddenly the Sophomores realized that things had not changed over the summer.

After the initial confusion, Sophomores began to distinguish themselves in several ways. The first accomplishment was the winning of Hockey Night by the Sophomore girls. Not only did the Sophomores excel in athletics, but a new band was also established by several Sophomore boys. After making their debut early in the year, the Common Market gained considerable recognition.

FRESHMEN

Class of '70 Starts High School Right

Class Officers: Mike O'Donnell, President; Suzanne Pariser, Vice-President; Mary Dana Livingston, Secretary-Treasurer.

In the midst of a system where rooms are numbered by floors, why does room 220 have its own private stairway to confuse students, and what in the world is study hall 219 doing where it is when it obviously should be at the other end of the hall? Not only did searching for classrooms present its complications, but freshmen found themselves major characters in the best seller Up the Down Staircase. However, instead of being praised for their efforts, they were confronted with "Go back up and go around." Oh, those first few frantic days!

Schedule interpretation provided mild neurosis in some cases, but when a freshman English class was assigned to Mr. Eliopulos the world almost came to an end for all concerned.

Shortly, however, as faces became more familiar, the first distraught expressions began to fade. Freshmen then embarked upon a "How to Study Program" which they were assured would be of invaluable assistance as soon as such questions as "How do we study for this course?" were answered to everyone's satisfaction.

After the first few traumatic days, the freshmen became acclimated to high school life and demonstrated early in the year their ability and class spirit. The cries of "hit it, hit it," and cheers were heard from the girls clad in white and blue as they took second place in Girls' Hockey Night. And once again the Levoff driveway produced a prize winning float when the Freshman's "Pound the Pacers" won second prize.

Freshmen put last minute touches on their first float.

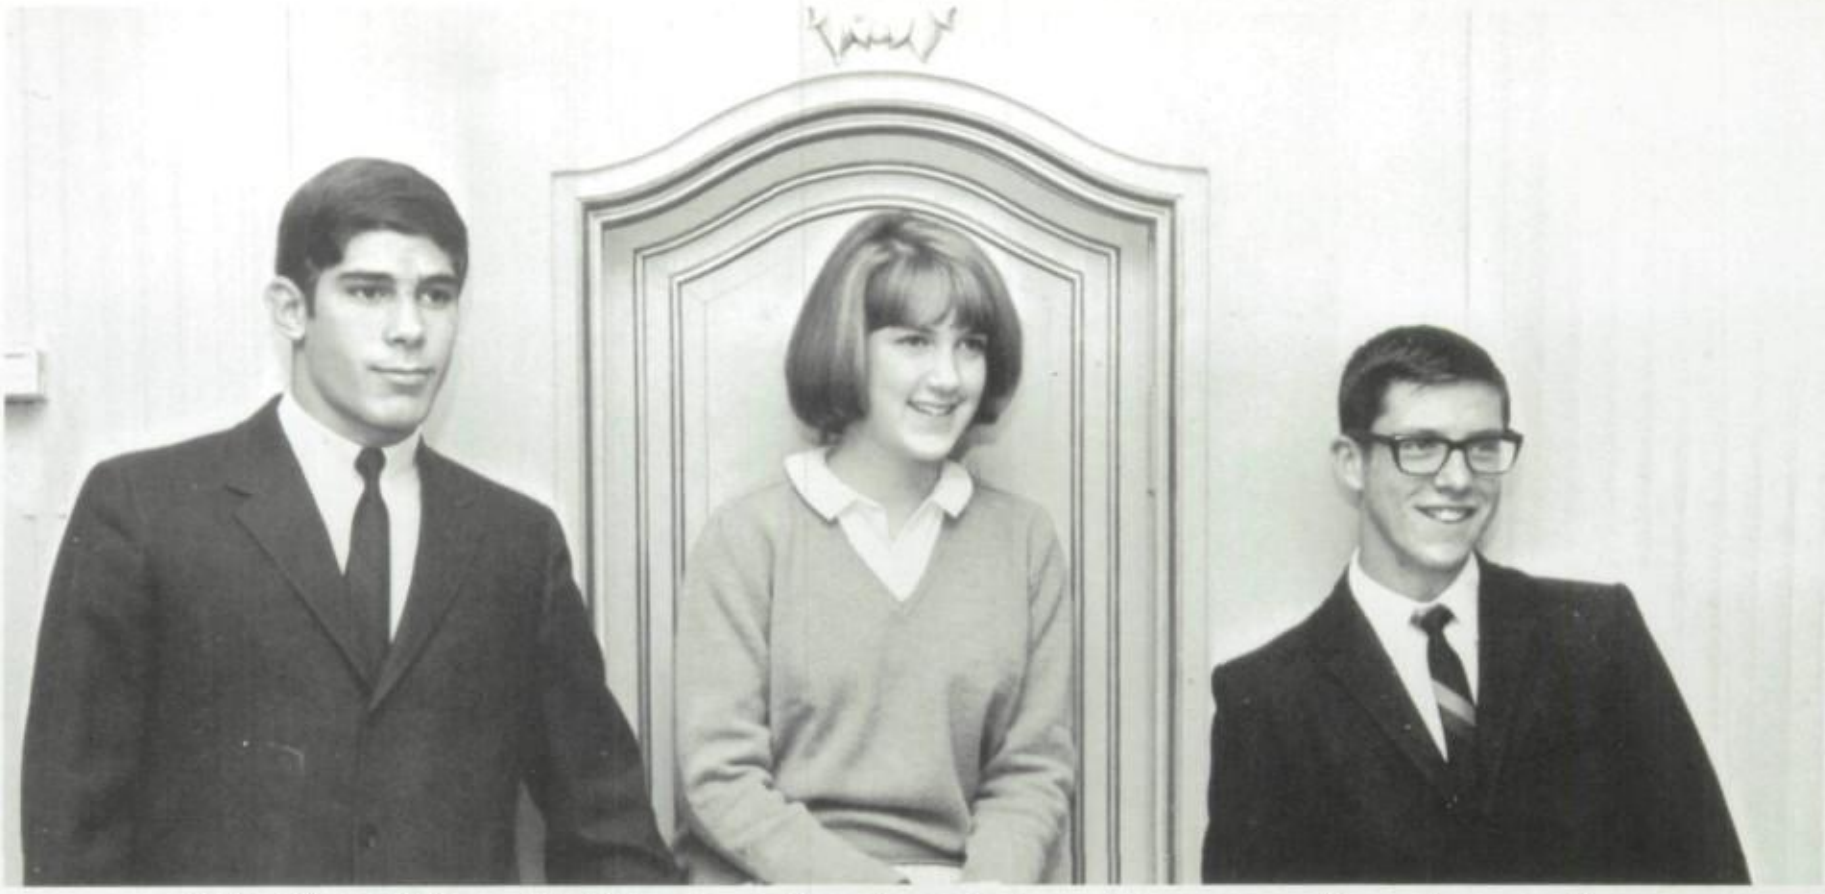
ACTIVITIES



Student Council Officers: John Main, vice-president, Marcie Kaplan, secretary-treasurer, Murray Lamp, president.

Student Council Encourages Student Opinion

This year Student Council President, Murray Lamp, initiated new means of obtaining student opinion in student government. The Student Suggestion Box in the library and the Troubleshooter Committee are two of the new methods established to give all a chance to voice their views. The Troubleshooter Committee took several opinion polls and dealt with problems such as school spirit.

Among this year's legislative achievements was the amendment enabling juniors to run for Student Council offices by presenting petitions. Previously, students could run only if nominated through home rooms.

Senior Representatives: Seated: Bruce Peterson, Linda Krech, Art Flicker. Standing: Paul Shultz, Dan Miller, John Dell, Tom Archer, Sam Webster.

Freshman Representatives:
Seated: Randy Ritter, Diane Shawan, Julie Harmon, Phil Theibert. Standing: Jack Jones, Richard Calland, Bob Dolin, Roger Myers.

Health Council Sponsors TB Tests

This year the student Health Council once again assumed the role of the unpraised helper of the school and community.

Council members braved the elements in November to seek adult volunteers for the Red Cross Blood Drive.

They also sponsored physical therapy for a young polio patient, Julie Lopper. The United Appeals drive fell under their auspices. Collections in home rooms brought the Bexley High School donation to about $120.00.

Most of the juniors hold "fond" memories of their blood-curdling tuberculosis tests sponsored and operated by the Health Council in conjunction with the Franklin County Tuberculosis Society. All juniors were offered the opportunity to have a TB skin test as part of the TB Society's fight to detect the disease in its early stages.

Although the Health Council operated on a very limited budget, they accomplished a great deal. Mrs. Betty Rogers served as the faculty sponsor.

Art Club Visits Exhibits

One need not be an artist or even know how to draw to be a member of Bexley's Art Club. The membership varies from those who possess potential talent for an art career to those who merely show an interest in art. The organization, although an integral part of the art classes, also includes those members who are not taking art. Under the guidance of Mr. Trivella, the club visited several art galleries and exhibits around the city. Members also illustrated books for blind children this year.

Art Club officers filled a showcase with their book illustrations for blind children: Elizabeth Moras, Vice-President; Byron Yaple, President; Melinda Thackery, Secretary-Treasurer.

Music Club Carols for Charity

The familiar words "Silent night, holy night" rang through the evening air for several nights this past winter as the Music Club performed for Kinder Key. Led by President Marcia Smilack, the club toured Bexley, singing their repertoire of Christmas carols. In a November meeting, the club was treated to a movie which analyzed the Grand Canyon Suite, while in the spring, the club attended an informal harp concert. Throughout the year, Music Club, under the direction of Mr. Hartline and Mr. Myers, presented a wide variety of activities for its members.

Music Club members caroled for Kinder Key in December.

Marcia Smilack, President, plays the piano while Diane Kessler, Vice-President, and Jan Smith, Secretary-Treasurer, sing.

G.A.C. Promotes Sports

This year G.A.C., the largest club in the school, endeavored to promote greater sports participation on the part of students. An almost unlimited number of sports activities were made possible for the students including noon badminton, basketball, volleyball, tennis, ping-pong, archery, riding, and bowling. After the initial success of the G.A.C. "Come as You Will Be" rush party, the club also supervised Hockey Night and Class Night during which class hockey and basketball teams competed. In February the club sponsored a ski trip to Mansfield. To finance its activities, G.A.C. sponsored a bake sale and a rummage sale.

GAC officers: Standing: Judy Baumgardner, intramural manager; Kathy Grayson, secretary. Sitting: Sharon Swinehart, treasurer; Laurie Samuels, vice-president; Martha Milbourne, president.

Hockey sportsheads: Jessie Davidson and Corinne Fendell.

Baseball sportsheads: Sue Nichols and Mindy Klie.

Y-Teens Join the Circus

Flippo served as ringmaster for the Y-Teens rush party "Circus." Girls came to the Big Top, Jeffery Mansion, dressed as animals or circus performers.

Y-Teens, being a service organization, adopted a Korean orphan and a whole cottage of children at the blind school. The Club again sponsored a city-wide Links program in which members of Y-Teens volunteer their services to help in various rest homes and hospitals.

The Club's money raising project was the Ugly Man's dance, held on February the 10th. Paul Shultz was voted the ugliest of all.

Kurt and Sam plan for the Hi-Y Youth in Government Day.

Hi-Y Enjoys Active Year

Hi-Y, under the leadership of president Kurt Krauss, was particularly active this year in the city and state Hi-Y organizations. Sam Webster and Kurt Krauss attended the statewide Hi-Y Youth in Government Day, while several members attended the Hi-Y City Government conclave in Columbus.

Eastmoor, Brookhaven, and Walnut Ridge were a few of the schools who participated with Bexley in the sports competition of the Columbus Hi-Y League. Bexley also played several other schools not in the Columbus Hi-Y League such as Canal Winchester and New Albany.

The undefeated line-up anxiously awaits the next game.

Stout stuffs it with a little help.

FTA Quintuples Membership

How can one club quintuple its membership in a single year? Future Teachers of America club did. Last summer persistent cabinet members phoned every girl at Bexley to tell her about FTA. The club had a varied program this year. Speakers ranged from a panel of college students to a child psychologist. The observation program at the Cassingham school was expanded. FTA "adopted" a squad of servicemen in Viet Nam as well.

Jill Paynter and Barbara Stern won the string and marshmallow race at the annual FTA Christmas party.

Science Club Initiates New System

Science Club initiated a new system of presenting its meetings during the 1966-67 school year. Instead of having a professional speaker on a certain subject, the club members interested in various areas of science presented the programs themselves. In December, the club went to the Center of Science and Industry to see a diarama-type exhibit from the New York World's Fair, "The Triumph of Man." In the spring the club sponsored Science Day and sent a representative to the Science Fair at Ohio State University.

A.F.S. Seeks Peace

A.F.S. co-chairmen: Ann Smith and Judy Baumgardner.

The American Field Service is an organization which selects students from all over the world and gives them the opportunity to make their homes in foreign lands. At an A.F.S. assembly held at Bexley this year, A.F.S. students from various Columbus area schools told Bexley students about their home countries. At the same time Jim Norris related his experiences as an A.F.S. student in Finland last summer.

Under the guidance of Mrs. Barr, the Bexley A.F.S. sponsor, the Bexley chapter of A.F.S. has tried to fulfill the A.F.S. motto, "Walk together, talk together, oh you peoples of the world, for only then will you have peace."

Ann Balentin from Sweden exchanges ideas with Mohammed Zarwar from Afghanistan and Ulrike Kroll from Austria.

Pep Club Increases Influence

Pep Club this year, like each year in the past, has strived to promote school spirit. Increased membership boosted the effectiveness of the Club's activities. Pep posters, for the halls, signs for the gymnasium, badges for the students, and identifying tags for lockers increased student interest in various sports activities. The Club also helped to increase attendance at football and basketball games by sponsoring buses for the students. A pep rally held for the wrestling team helped increase attendance at matches.

Latin Club Holds Slave Auction

"Twenty cents!" "A quarter!" "A dollar!" were among the shouts that rang out at Latin Club's annual slave sale during the spring banquet. The banquet, featuring entertainment by the slaves, also spotlighted the naming of new officers. Besides the banquet, the Bexley chapter of Junior Classical League was kept busy by a Christmas party, a quiz show, the annual induction of new members, and regular monthly meetings. Latin Club also sent delegates to the Ohio J.C.L. convention in March. Miss Wylie functioned as advisor to the club.

Latin Club officers are Kelly White, President; Jon Alspaugh, Vice-President; Cathy Salt, Secretary; Judy Baumgardner, Treasurer.

French Club Diversifies Activities

Le Cercle Francais was led by George Harrington, Treasurer; Mindy Mindlin, Vice-President; Holly Campbell, Secretary; Frann Grossman, President.

Gay and varied are among the many words that describe the year's activities of Le Cercle Français. Approximately sixty new members, who later proved of great value to the club, came to the "Pot Pourri" rush party in the fall. New board positions and standing committees were formed to help organize and unify the club. Among various club projects and activities planned by the leaders were interesting guest speakers, a slide tour of a trip to France, bake sales in the lounge, and publication of a new French Club newspaper. Also, Le Cercle Français saw a French production of Les Femmes Savantes by Moliere at Ohio State.

French Club members read their newspaper.

Dramatics Club Performs Frequently

"Performance" was the key word for this year's Dramatics Club. In November the club experimented with reader's theater, a new concept in drama in which actors sit on stools, read from works, and register emotion only with their faces and hands. At a joint meeting with Eastmore and Worthington, "Flippo" spoke after each club staged a skit. For the first time, Dramatics Club participated in the Festival of the Arts by giving two one-act plays under the guidance of Mr. Eliopulos, club advisor. At the last meeting National Thespian Society inducted new members and installed the new officers.

Spanish Club Hears Guest Speakers

Spanish, fun, food and excitement set the mood of the rush party at Nancy Kelley's house. The fund raising project of the year was a dance held after the Mt. Veron basketball game. "The Great Pinata" was the theme of the dance, and music was provided by the Stoics. In February, a native Cuban spoke on Castro and the affairs of Cuba today. The traditional banquet, held at the conclusion of the year, served for the induction of new officers. Mr. Larry Smith functioned as the advisor.

Three Bands Perform at Bexley

Strains of "Onward Bexley" or "Tijuana Taxi" often drifted down from the band room this year, signifying that one of Bexley's bands was in rehearsal. The marching band entertained at the half-time shows at all football games. The Pep band, organized last year, played at home basketball games and at pep rallies. The concert band performed more frequently for the student body this year than they have for several years. They played for the Christmas Concert in December, the Band Parents' Show in February, the Spring Concert in March, and the Festival of Arts in May.

Choir Entertains Often During School Year

"Forget the audience and watch me" was Mr. Myers' command to the choir as they performed for the annual Veteran's Day concert. And watch they did, keeping their attention on Mr. Myers as he directed the numerous concerts throughout the year.

The choir's schedule has been a busy one, with many appearances throughout the city. Christmas time was a particularly hectic period. They sang at the lighting of the Bexley Christmas tree, and as a special treat Santa Claus distributed candy canes to the choir members. Later in the month, upon the request of WMNI, the choir presented a radio program in which they sang selections from their Christmas repertoire. Just before Christmas, the choir appeared in the annual Spring Concert and the Thanksgiving program. In keeping with the Easter spirit, the choir took part in the Lenten services before school.

With the knowledge that several of the members gained at Fred Waring's music shop this summer and with the invaluable guidance of Mr. Myers, the choir maintained its high standard of excellence.

BEXLEO Plans Summer Supplement

Co-editors, Suzy and Harriet, plan the 1967 BEXLEO.

Unlike yearbooks in the past, the 1967 BEXLEO will be accompanied by a summer supplement to give students a second opportunity to enjoy and reminisce the varied events and activities of the past year. It will enable the staff to provide more complete coverage of this year's spring activities.

Working around the central idea of "faces", the staff has endeavored to make this year a memorable one by emphasizing the facial expressions of Bexley's students and faculty. What better way is there to remember high school than through the familiar faces of its students?

The staff is deeply indebted to Mr. John Dickey, the faculty advisor, for his invaluable assistance, guidance, and patience in helping put the yearbook together.

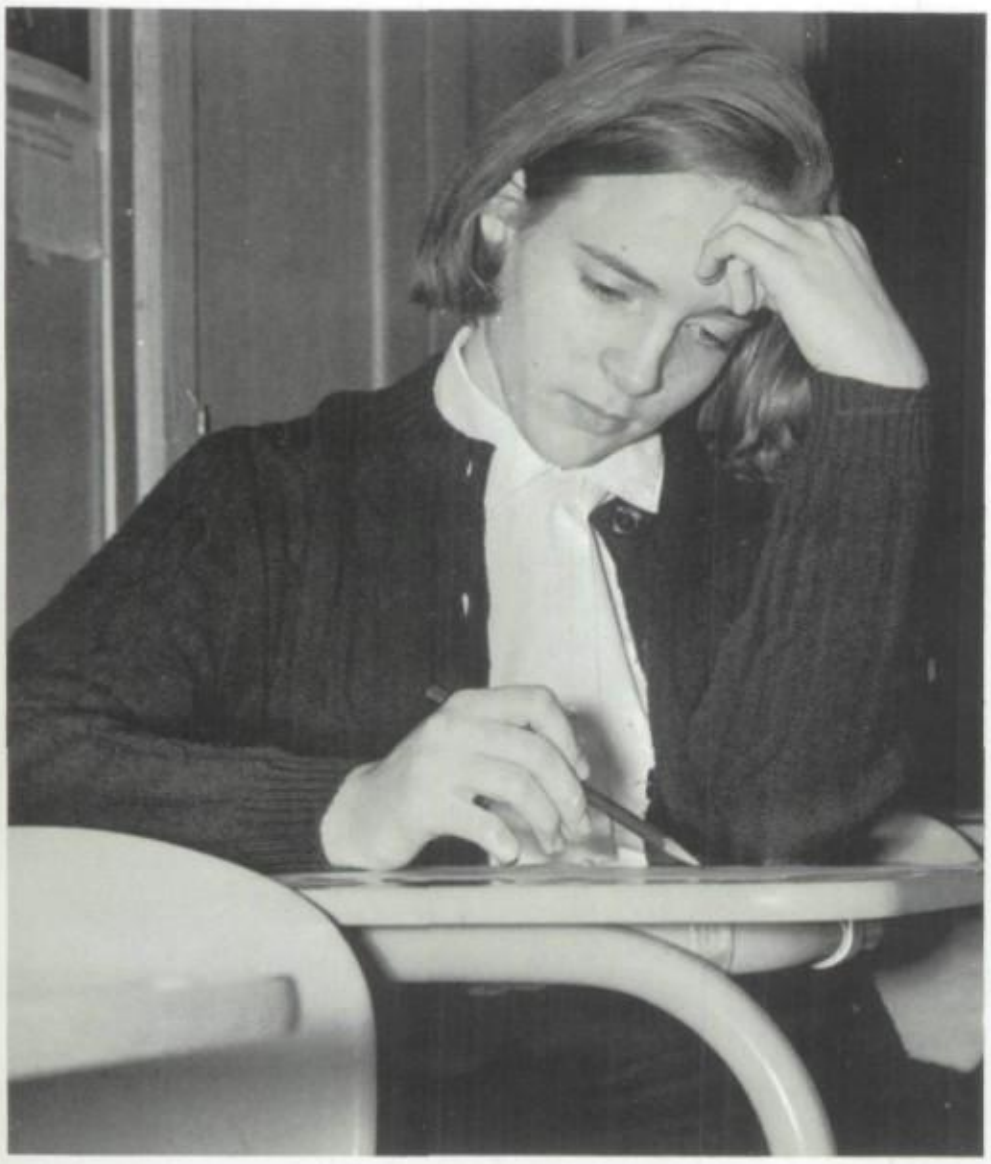
TORCH Captures Highlights of Year



Beth Cooper edits the TORCH with discretion.

What does it take to print an award-winning newspaper?

"A love of journalistic writing," asserted Beth Cooper, TORCH editor, "talented staff members who are willing to work long hours, and," she sighed, "a lot of elbow grease."

Elbows were well greased this year, for the TORCH again won several awards. In the December contests sponsored by the Ohio Press Club, Beth won first place for the "On-the-Spot" news contest by interviewing Bob Manry, who crossed the Atlantic Ocean in a sailboat. Bruce Peterson won first place for a sports article. He also received third place for an editorial.

Last December the staff assembled the Dial-a-Date, the handy student telephone directory, under the supervision of Judi Cohen and Nancy Kelley, head typists. The TORCH sponsored the annual Valentine's Day Dance during which the King and Queen of Hearts were chosen. Mrs. Sara Amos gave up her valuable time to advise the group who appreciated her fine suggestions.

Lions Defeat Co-Champion Delaware Twice

Bexley's Fighting Lions, under the direction of Coach Don DeJong, compiled a three won, six lost record during the 1966 season. In Buckeye Athletic Conference competition the Lions won three of their six games, including two victories over co-champion Delaware Hayes, and finished in third place.

The Fighting Lion offense displayed its finest effort in the victory over Urbana by a score of 57-0, the highest point total ever attained by a Lion grid squad. A stubborn defense led by Captain Doug Felger was also instrumental in several of the hard-fought contests.

John Main, Colby Crall, and Jim Moriarty were named to the All-BAC team. Dave Pariser was selected as the most improved player and was named to the Shoulderpad Club as were Jim Moriarty, Larry Hamill, and Colby Crall. Jim Moriarty, junior halfback, also received the Fred Medors Award and will captain next year's squad.

Cagers Are BAC Co-Champions

The Fighting Lions brought home Bexley's first basketball title in nine years as they won the Buckeye Athletic Conference co-championship with a league record of 4 wins and 2 losses. Only after a defeat in the second Urbana game did the Lion cagers lose their bid for an outright championship.

Guided by Coach Gene Millard, the Lions compiled a regular season record of 9 and 9. The team averaged 57 points per game to their opponents' 56. In tournament play, the Lions were turned back by Buckeye Valley, 55-42.

Captain Bob Forman, junior forward, proved an excellent leader for the squad. Forman produced a free throw completion percentage of 77, the finest in several years by a Lion cager.

Named to the All-BAC first team was Bob Forman. Jim Duffey, senior forward, and Steve Michaelson, junior center, were selected for the All-Conference second team.

Expectations for next year's team are high as several key players, including captain Forman, are returning.

Undefeated Captain Leads '67 Wrestlers

The Bexley Lion wrestling team completed a disappointing 1966-1967 season with a record of one victory and seven losses. The single win of the season was over Hamilton Township.

Best individual efforts of the season were made by seniors Rees Lattimer and Mike Neff, who led the team with four pins each. Captain Lattimer, last year's most valuable wrestler, completed the regular season undefeated, with an 8-0 record. Neff compiled a record of 6-1-1. Bexley claimed three individual champions in the Buckeye Athletic Conference Tournament as Rees Lattimer, Bob Snyder, and Rob Hirsh won titles in their weight divisions. Mike Neff and Rick Grove, seniors, were runners-up as Bexley took third place in the conference tournament.

This season emerged as a major rebuilding period for the Bexley grapplers after last year's fine record. The Lions should be stronger and more experienced as they take to the mats next year.

Myers and Miller Lead '67 Swimmers

Bexley's swimming team, under the guidance of Coach Russ Owen, compiled a 4-5 record during the season. Led by co-captains A. J. Myers and Dan Miller, the Lion tankers salvaged a poor season as they showed marked improvement following the fourth meet and finished sixth in the Central Ohio Swimming League.

Several swimmers showed improvement throughout the season. Dennis Maupin, junior, greatly improved his time in the 50 yard freestyle as did Bill Casto in the 400 yard freestyle to give the Lions added strength. Dan Kayne, sophomore, and Fred Mendelson, freshman, performed as expected and became consistent scorers in diving competition.

Co-captains A. J. Myers and Dan Miller received four year trophies for their swimming prowess.

Although this year's young squad did not enjoy a winning season, several returning lettermen hope to give next year's team a winning season.

HONDO DIGS HONDA

The Boston Celtic's and Ohio State's John "Hondo" Havlicek chooses a Honda from Dick Klamfoth, Largest Honda Dealer in the USA. YES, Hondo finds his Honda a great time saver and a lot of fun. He has no parking problems, no traffic problems with his Honda. The Honda helps Hondo in his work and provides him with plenty of recreation, too. A lot of nice people in every field are choosing Hondas these days for work and play. Visit Klamfoth Honda Sales and learn how you too can get the convenience and have the fun of Honda! As little as $25.00 down and less than $4.00 a week can put you "up" on a Honda. And . . . as we always say "You meet the nicest people on a Honda."
